1942

FOREWORD

Arapahoe was named after the Arapahoe Indians, who once camped along the Republican River. The school has selected different Indian names for its organizations. The Indian is our mascot; the Warriors, our athletes. The word, "Iagoo," meaning story-teller, was selected for the name of our annual.

Our class of 1942 is trying also to bring out the significance of this year and give the story of the school. We hope you enjoy this paper as much as we have enjoyed printing it for you this year.

CAMPUS

The Arapahoe students are very fortunate in having a campus which is unequalled in southwestern Nebraska. The broad school lawn, which provides a foundation for the school building, has many shady trees and annual and perennial flowers. Besides being a welcomed place for students on warm days, it provides a beautiful scene for passers-by.

Spirea bushes line the main walk which leads up to the senior high building. This building encloses the home economics room typing laboratory, science laboratory, library, and auditorium-gymnasium.

The junior high building takes in the grades from kindergarten through the ninth.

The annex, east of the junior high building, includes the music room and the manual arts room. The latter two buildings are surrounded by a slipper-slide, ocean-wave and swings. These provide entertainment for both young and old.

The athletic field lies directly north of the junior high building. A large crowd lines the field every time the Warriors meet the battle with another team. The track, the best in southwestern Nebraska, is the scene of the Mid-Valley, Republican-Valley and county track meets.

This field is equipped with lights, thus affording bigger and better games and meets.

All in all the Arapahoe school has a good reputation so let's keep it that way in years to come.

The campus is under the care of the capable janitors, Mr. Snyder and Mr. Hornaday.

Ray Snyder started to work as the school care taker in the fall of 1934. His job consists of cleaning and sweeping the building, tending to the furnace, and taking care of the grounds. He likes his job and says that the teachers and students are all fine.

"Cop" Hornaday started to work as the school care taker in the fall of 1937. His job also consists of cleaning and sweeping the building, tending to the furnace, and taking care of the grounds.

Both janitors have been doing splendid work, and much credit should be given them for the very beautiful school campus.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is organized to bring the interest of the students before the faculty, to provide opportunities for the student cooperation in the internal government of the school, and to promote general welfare for the school and a sentiment for law and order.

The Student Council manage the check room, see that the desks and lockers are kept in order, sponsor convocations, and give speeches before classes on how to better the school.

Since this picture was taken Mr. Parriott has left our school, and Mr. Adce and Mr. Cherry are now the sponsors. As Georgia Johnson resigned from the Student Council, she was replaced by Jo Anne Carpenter.

COURSES

COLLEGE PREPARATORY

This course prepares students for entrance to the University of Nebraska and all other colleges. It is offered to the students that are interested in going to college. The principle subjects in this course are Latin, English, and social and physical sciences.

NORMAL TRAINING

A student planning to teach should take this vocational course. A student taking this course is entitled to teach three years before going to school again. The chief purpose of this course is to train boys and girls to become teachers.

COMMERCIAL COURSE

The commercial course provides training for those pupils who wish to enter business. It trains them to be stenographers, bookkeepers, typists, and for general office work.

TRADE TRAINING

Very few schools offer this training to the pupils; however, it is a good course because it trains the students in auto mechanics, blacksmithing, electricity, or other desired vocations. The students gain experience in the local business houses.

GENERAL COURSE

The person who does not know what he will do after graduation takes the general course. The studies in this course are necessary for college entrance.

The Warriors won seven games, tied two, and lost not a single game. The Warriors were champions of the Mid-Valley League and Runners-up to Beaver City in the Republican Valley League. In those nine games they rolled up 172 points to the opponents 19. There are twenty lettermen on this year's team and twelve will return next year which are very good prospects for another championship season.

The 1941-1942 Warriors closed one of the most successful seasons in the school's history. They were champions of the Eastern Division of the Mid-Valley, Furnas County champions, Mid-Valley League champions, and State Class "C" District champions. In the regional tournament they were finally bumped off the Culbertson, who later won the State Class "C" Basketball championship. The Warriors won 17 games, lost 7, and scored 723 points to the opponents' 588. In the final rankings in the state in Class "C" competition, they ranked tenth. They also won the only basketball trophies in the school's history. In tournament games they won 11 out of 12, losing only to Culbertson. For next year's squad they will return three lettermen out of this year's starting lineup, which is a very good outlook for another championship season.

FOOTBALL

When September 1 rolled around, about twenty-five anxious boys reported to the first practice of the Warriors. Richard "Terrible" Terry, a graduate from the University of Nebraska succeeded Leonard Greathouse as the coach for the Warriors. With ten returning lettermen and other dependable players, the Warriors were determined to capture another championship, and started to work hard the first three weeks to get into shape for their first game.

Opening the season September 19 against a smaller Holbrook eleven, the Warriors out fought the Hornets 14-0, and this started the Warriors off on a very successful season.

Traveling to Orleans the following week, the Warriors had to be satisfied with a 6-6 deadlock. This game later cost the Warriors at least a tie for the Republican-Valley championship.

Avenging a 53-12 licking by an Alma team of the 1938 season, the Warriors romped over this hapless eleven this year 82-0 in one of the grandest scoring outbursts of the school's history.

The next week the Warriors added Elwood to their string of victims in a lop-sided contest 30-0. This was the second victory for the Warriors in the Mid-Valley League.

In a very important contest for leadership in the Mid-Valley, Indianola fell 20-7 before the crashing onslaught of the Warriors. This game was really the first big test of the Warriors, and it opened the first chance of a League Championship.

Minden was the next foe on the schedule, and in a see-saw affair the Warriors came out of camp with the Greyhounds scalp 7-0. Two other touchdowns were in sight, but two bad breaks cost the Warriors the chance of scoring them.

On a cold, windy, rainy day the Cambridge Trojans were outclassed by the Warriors 6-0 in a good football game on November 7. The Trojans were outplayed throughout most of this game but the Warriors were unable to chalk up no more than one touchdown.

Encountering the strong Beaver City "Bearcats" the next week, the Warriors were playing them with the Republican Valley Championship at stake. On this very windy and dusty afternoon, the two elevens battled to a scoreless deadlock. As the Warriors had previously tied Orleans, the Championship of this valley went to Beaver City with Arapahoe second.

But on Thanksgiving Day the Warriors won over their foe, Oxford, which decided who was the winner of the Mid-Valley League. As both teams were now undefeated in league play, it was a very important contest. With the outcome being only 7-6 victory for the Warriors, it left many fans after the game breathless as it was a close thrilling, and a hard-fought football game.

The Warriors won seven games, tied two, and lost not a single game. They were champions of the Mid-Valley League and Runners-up to Beaver City in the Republican Valley. In those nine games they rolled up 172 points to the opponents 19. There are twenty lettermen on this year's team and twelve will return next year for hopes of another championship season.

BASKETBALL

Immediately after the Warriors' last football game, about twenty-five boys reported to the first practice of basketball, as their first game loomed just a little more than one week away.

On December 9 the Arapahoe Warriors and Indianola Indians met in the first game of the basketball season with the outcome being a win for Indianola by a score of 25-23, but a moral victory for the Warriors.

The following week on their home floor, the Warriors, without much exertion, overcame the Elwood quintet 39-15.

After Christmas vacation, undefeated Loomis succumbed to the Warriors 28-19, but the next two games were lost to the Holbrook Hornets and the Beaver City 18-16 and 42-27, respectively.

Getting back into the winning column, the Warriors trounced the Orleans Orioles by a large margin of 55-26.

Traveling way down the line to Franklin, the "Blue and White" came home on the short end of the score 38-21. It was their poorest exhibition of basketball the entire season.

In the first tournament of the year at Edison, the Eastern Division of the Mid-Valley, the Warriors overcame the jinx of losing their first game in a tournament by conquering Loomis 25-22. The "Blue and White" then went on to win their next two games, Bertrand 34-18 and Holbrook 18-13. By virtue of this championship the Warriors were able to put the first basketball trophy of the school's history in the show case.

In the next two games, the Warriors were turned back by Oxford 21-15 and Bertrand 34-20, as sickness forced several of the regulars out of the line-up.

On February 5-7 the County Tournament was held at Edison. As another trophy was at stake, the Warriors, romping through three games, walloped Cambridge 43-20 and Wilsonville 34-15, but edging Beaver City only 36-34 in the finals. This was the first defeat of the season for the Bearcats of Beaver City.

Continuing their winning streak, the Warriors romped the Cambridge Trojans 43-27, with Coach Terry in bed with the flu.

Meeting Lebanon for the championship of the Mid-Valley League at Holbrook on February 13, the Warriors, in a very fast game, eluded the "Cedars" 31-21. This added the third trophy to the Warriors' collection.

Edison and Red Willow, next on the season's schedule, were added to the Warriors' long list of beaten teams, as the Warriors roared past Edison 47-35, but squeezed a win over Red Willow 30-29 in the only overtime game of the season.

The next tournament was the most important of them all, the State Class "C" Tournament at Arapahoe. The Warriors easily conquered Elwood in the first game 34-21 but from then on it was tough sledding. A last half rally beat Cambridge 31-26, and excellent co-operative work whipped Wilcox 27-18. The Warriors thus gained the finals again and the right to play Beaver City. A fast first half beat the Bearcats, as the Warriors again emerged victorious with a thrilling 26-22 win. A fourth trophy went to the show case.

In the Regional Tournament at McCook, Culbertson, with a last quarter rally, whipped the "Blue and White" 29-18, and eliminated the Warriors' chances of going to the State Tournament at Lincoln. Although the Warriors were troubled with a large floor, they gave a good account of themselves.

As this game ended their 1941-42 season, the Warriors closed one of the most successful seasons in the school's history. They won 17 games, and lost 7, scoring 723 points to the opponents' 588. In the final rankings in the state in Class "C" competition the "Blue and White" ranked tenth. They won 11 of 12 tournament games, losing only to Culbertson. Though there had never been a basketball trophy in the show case before, the Warriors went to work in earnest and won four different trophies. Coach Terry should be complimented highly on these outstanding accomplishments because when the season opened only two lettermen were back, but he took care of that situation in fine style. With three lettermen returning out of the starting lineup for next year, prospects are very good for another championship season.

GLEE CLUBS

At the beginning of the school year the Mixed Chorus boasted a membership of 90, but when the first semester ended, Mr. Thayer divided the Chorus into two parts, one made up of Junior High pupils and the other of Senior High pupils.

Because of the size of the group and also because of the tire shortage, this organization was unable to attend the District Music Contest.

The three drum majorettes are Adeline Harkenbrook, Betty Curry, and Frances Loudon.

~~Under the~~ direction of Marion C. Thayer, the Arapahoe High School band has had a very successful year. Besides having presented three concerts this year, the band attended a Music Festival at Holbrook and several members presented a portion of a music program at Mascot and Edison and have provided entertainment for several organizations ~~at~~ Arapahoe.

At the District Music Contest the band received a rating of excellent, a record to be proud of, for the competition was very keen.

There were eight soloists and they were given the following ratings: Virginia Samples, french horn, superior; Jerry Hill, cornet, superior; Roland Emmett, baritone, superior; Jack Learned, vocal, superior; Doris Eland, piano, superior; Georgia Johnson, excellent plus; Ara Jane Hill, piano, excellent; Bette Belle Kilpatrick, clarinet, excellent. The flute trio, Marielyn Johnson, Barbara Faw, Glenva Eland, was given an excellent; the brass quintette, Virginia Samples, Betty Benjamin, Roland Emmett, Jack Learned, Jerry Hill, superior; clarinet quartette, Glen Moore, Daleard Pettijohn, Ara Jane Hill, Bette Belle Kilpatrick, excellent; madrigal club, Darrel Brown, Roland Emmett, Phil Benjamin, Oscar Peterman, Ruth Schabacker, Doris Holloway, Bette Belle Kilpatrick, Marjorie Tull, Gloria Wildman, Rhoda Roesler, Jo Anne Carpenter, Georgia Johnson, excellent plus.

Those who had a superior rating were eligible for the National Music Contest, which was held in Omaha. Virginia Samples, Jerry Hill, and Roland Emmett received a "2" or superior rating; Doris Eland received a "3" or excellent; Jack Learned received a "4" or good.

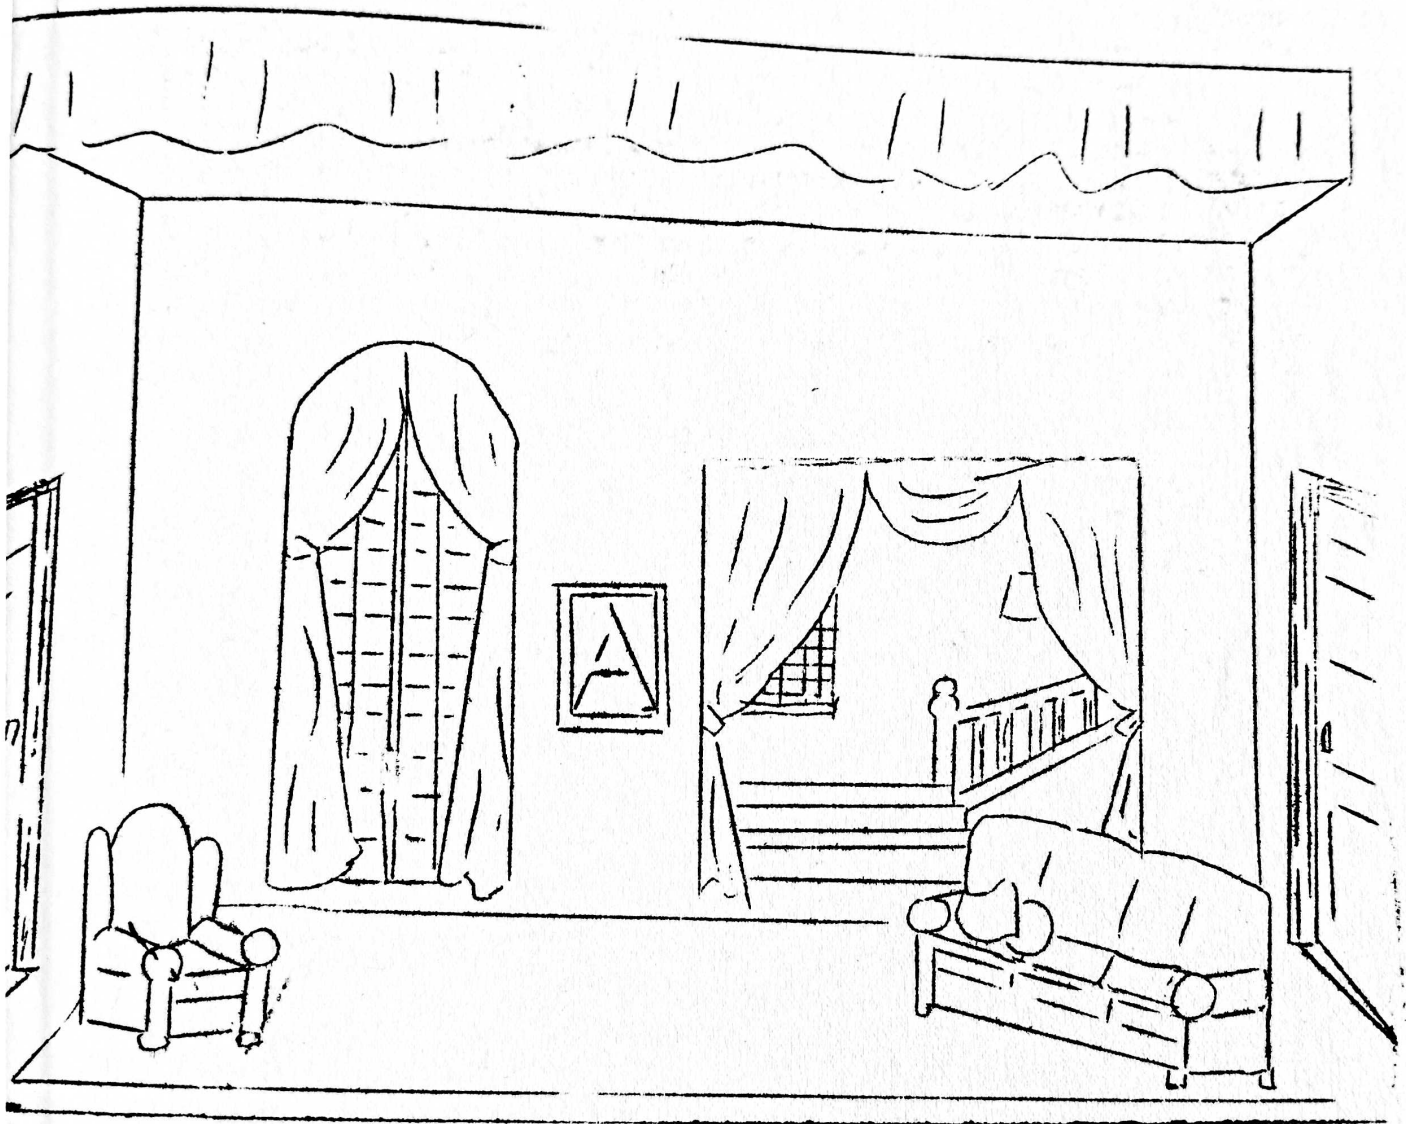

The band will, no doubt, miss the 13 Seniors who are graduating, for several of them have been in the organization for 7 or 8 years. There will be some gone from almost every section of the band. Much talent has been displayed by these students, and there are many beginners who will be able to fill the vacant spaces very soon.

A somewhat weary-looking gentleman boarded the train settled himself, and got out a largish sign which he carefully hung on his coat. "Listen," it read, "I think Hitler is crazy, Washington's full of Reds, business is going to pick up in the spring, we ought to get out of the Philippines, and I don't believe in the third term. Wake me up at Spokane."

DRAMA

JR. CLASS PLAY

The dramatics this year started out with the presentation of the junior class play, "Don't Darken My Door," on November 19, 1941.

The comedy of the play was supplied by Poppy Foster, played by Rhoda Roesler, who was the maid to the Kents, and her faithful swain, Alec Stubbins, played by Leon McCoy, who throughout the entire play insisted on marrying Poppy, finally succeeding in the end.

The romantic angle was supplied by Rosemary Kent, played by Marjorie Tull, and her persistent suitor, Tom Gerrick, played by Wayne Frost. Also adding to the romance were Roger Kent, played by Bill Hill, and Jane Perkins, played by Beatta Ziebold.

The two romantic minded women ladies, Louisa and Susie Featherstone, played by Georgia Johnson and Blanche Suedmeyer, did their parts splendidly in adding to this hilarious comedy.

DECLAMATORY WORK

Declamatory work this year was sponsored by Miss Morris, Miss Waddell, Miss McDaniel, and Mr. Adee. The local contest consisted of an elimination of oratorical readers. Warren Urbom, Frank Whitbeck, and Bette Belle Kilpatrick prepared selections for this day. As Bette Belle was unable to compete because of illness, Frank and Warren fought it out, with Warren getting the edge.

All Arapahoe entries in the District Contest, Darrell Brown, and Warren Urbom, readings, and the play cast which included Ara Jane Hill, Wilmer Hunt, Marjorie Tull, Bill Oswald, and Warren Urbom, received superior ratings.

At the District Contest the play, "Jaco" was given an excellent, Darrel Brown received a good, and Warren Urbom received the only Arapahoe superior.

Douglas Brown also prepared a humorous reading, but was unable to compete at any time, because of illness.

The sponsors should be given much credit for splendid dramatic accomplishments made this year, the

SR. CLASS PLAY

The Senior Class presented their class play, "Seeing Double," a three-act comedy, on April 29.

The greatest problem in Jerry Mitchell's and Robert Carlson's lives, played by Phil Benjamin, and Harry Hill respectively, was the identical twins, Gloria and June Wade, played by Ara Janchill.

Mrs. van Schulyer, played by Gladys Lee, and Geraldine van Schulyer, played by Ada Jean Stewart, were trying to marry Schulyer van Schulyer, played by Darrell Brown, to Gloria Wade because of the money she was to inherit soon.

Jeeves, played by Bill Oswald, the van Schuyler valet, fell for Dora Fletcher, played by Letha Highland, the Wade's housekeeper.

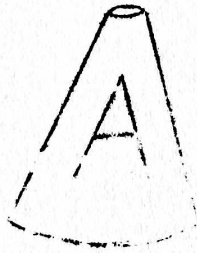

Martha Mason, played by Geraldine Hahn, a friend of June Wade, was also very fond of Schuyler van Schuyler.

Miss Arnold, played by Doris Holloway, brought the message that settled the fate of the van Schuylers.

Aunt Mary, played by Bette Belle Kilpatrick, was the reliable elderly aunt that straightened out all troubles.

FEATURES

CLASS POEM

To The Seniors, Now and Ever

Tonight we graduate, and though
We hurry to the door of real life
We pause there, hesitate---and hate to go.

Sadly, we think of comrades, fond and dear,
Who, with the turn of seasons, will return.
But, good fellows, our lot is theirs in just another year.

Our teachers--how we'll miss them, think we all.
How good to us 'twould seem
If once again we'd answer to the school bell's call.

And then we hear a Junior, thoughtless say,
"How happy I should be if I that were!
Ah, yes, it shall, next graduation day."

Our friends who took this step a year before
Bid us God-speed in life's journey saying,
"You thought that was living, but this is something more!"

And as we peer, uncertain, down that path so long
The mist clears, we square our shoulders and we pray,
"God, help us meet that challenge, firm and strong."

By Ara Jane Hill

CLASS SONG

(Tune to "Somebody Else Is Taking My Place")

Some other class is taking our place.

Some other class is setting the pace.

Don't be denying that you are crying

For when we're gone, we will miss these old days,

Much we will miss the hours that we played

And the teachers will miss the noise that we made.

Keep right on trying, keep A. H. colors flying.

You must if you're to take our place.

--Ara Jane Hill

MAY FETE

The annual May Fete was held May 19. The rural schools participated in track and field events during the afternoon. The theme this year was somewhat different, as it was a victory garden.

The evening program commenced at 7:30 with a band concert, which was followed by the coronation of the king and queen. Eighteen girls dressed in formals carried red, white and blue streamers. The girls formed an aisle for the king, queen, and their attendants. Following the daisy chain were the attendants from various classes. The flower girls and drown bearer followed the attendants and next in procession were the maid of honor and the man of honor. The king and queen marched slowly behind the other attendants. The train bearers were the last in the procession. Music for the processional and recessional was furnished by Mr. Thayer.

The grade school presented the "V" for victory process, which was formed by Weather Forecast girls, Young American Boys, Raindrops, Sunbeams, Sunbonnet Girls, Overall Boys, Flowers, Butterflies, Vegetables, and Bugs.

The maypole was wound by girls dressed in formals of light shades. the physical education girls gave a gymnastic performance entitled "Keeping Fit."

The tableau was formed by the king, queen, soldiers, sailors, boy scouts, girl scouts and yougn Americans. Warren Urbom read a verse of "Your Flag and My Flag," and concluded with the flag pledge. Jack Learned sang a verse of "The Star Spangled Banner".

The queen was crowned by the maid of honor and the king was given his septer by the man of honor.

After the conclusion of this program, Mr Adee presented the trophies to the winners in the track meet held that afternoon. Various awards were also presented to the seniors for achievements made during the year.
