CLASS PROPHECY

The year is 1999 and it's the ten year reunion of the Class of 1989. The first to arrive is a muscular blue-eyed blond giant. The mystery man is Brad Bowers, the back-up middle line-backer for the Denver Broncos, with 42" chest and 36" biceps. He has been working out at the Coors gym in Golden, Colorado. He is currently the reigning Mr. Universe and is planning a movie next month with Sylvester Stalone in "Rocky 23."

Wrapped in her Alaskan furs and muckluks, arrives Amy Clary in search of anyone needing a date. She is now teaching kindergarten in Moosejaw, Alaska. To keep in shape, she has been seen pulling a dog sled up the Yukon.

In stumbles Ted and Amy Watson with their three children. They have been working on their 12 ounce curls. Their children are dark complexioned, which is evidence of a recessive racial gene found in the Watson family tree. Naturally Tyrece, Tyrone (twins), and Leads are seven feet tall and are all state basketball players.

The halls shake and the ceiling rumbles--what is it?? an earthquake??? No, it is just Troy and Dave in their brand new Sherman Tank. Troy jumps out screaming "Save the Green Beret? Remember the Alamo!" Then emerges three blond beauties escorting Dave out of the tank into the party. Dave is a four star general currently on R & R from the pent of Hong Kong. Troy is still a private, because of disorderly conduct.

Strutting in bragging about his bronze medal for the shot put in the Special Olympics, is Jason Glanzer. Jason is now pictured on Kraft Mayonnaisse Jars across America.

After the devastating divorce from Jason, Dani decided to get away from it all by moving to Ethiopia. She quickly remarried Fatman Ishtarhome. He is the current heavyweight champion, weighing in at a whopping 91 pounds. Dani is teaching English to the underprivileged children in Ethiopia. She also teaches primitive music to the older Ethiopian society.

Thomas Fischer enters with his best friend Charles Mason. Tom and Charles wrote a book entitled, "Charley's and Tom's Tall Tales."

Late as always, Jeanne Long enters screaming that she still has at least 30 more seconds before she is counted late. She went to Medical School and became a doctor. She was sued for malpractice and now is employed at Wal-Mart as the official door opener.

And so brings a close to the 1989 Class Reunion. Good luck and we will see you in ten more years!!!

The image features a stylized title "Sixty Nine" in a bold, white, sans-serif font, slanted upwards from left to right. The text is set against a background of a dense, grey, stippled texture. Several white triangles of varying sizes are scattered around the text. A large, white, irregular rectangular shape overlaps the bottom right of the stippled area. The bottom half of the image is filled with a pattern of thin, parallel white lines slanted downwards from left to right, creating a sense of depth and movement. The overall composition is dynamic and modern.
